Publisher's note

If you are a frequent patron of Historic Downtown Clarksville you probably recognize this month's cover girl, Jody Isaacs. Jody is co-owner of The Clarksville Collection (formerly Journeys Eye Studio) with Steve Tyrell; read about The Clarksville Collection as well as their plan to keep Journeys Eye alive with regular showcase exhibits for Steve's art beginning in February or March 2023, beginning on page 12.

Be sure to check out Tony Centonze's article on his very own fundraiser for Empty Bowls last month. The event was an exhibit of his photos chronicling his recent trip to Italy and Greece. It was a huge success and raised more than $4,300 for Empty Bowls. See story and photos starting on page 6.

And lastly, despite the frigid temps, we've still got plenty to do here in town, so be sure to check out our calendar of events on page 24.

As always, we are forever grateful to our advertisers, staff and readers. The past three years have not been easy for any of us. Without you, we would not be able to publish every month to help keep our community informed and connected for over 15 years. Here's to a great 2023!

Rome, Italy

By Tony Centonze

I recently had the opportunity to host an event at Ken and Melody Shipley's River City Clay on Franklin Street. The Shipleys were gracious enough to let me team with them for a fundraiser that benefited Empty Bowls, a local charity that supports Urban Ministries, and Loaves and Fishes.

The idea came about prior to my recent trip to Europe. Six of us spent nearly three weeks in Italy, Greece and Turkey. Our journey started with a few days in Rome, followed by a 10-night cruise that took us to amazing locations such as Mykonos, Santorini and Athens in Greece, Naples, Sicily and the Amalfi Coast in Italy and Ephesus in Turkey. After returning to Rome and enjoying a surprise performance by Andrea Bocelli in St. Peter's Square, we made our way to Venice, where our adventure came to an end.

When I returned, "An Evening with the Artist" was put into motion. We were honored to have Blue Cord Realty and Appleton Harley-Davidson come on board as sponsors. Nicoletta's Catering and Yada on Franklin provided some delicious Italian culinary treats. Bill's Package Store helped out with a little vino. My friends Gina (marketing), Lynne (sous chef on limoncello and gelato) and others helped put the whole thing together. Joe Padula was our emcee, and the amazingly talented Jimmy Jammz provided the music. Many thanks to everyone involved, for helping bring this crazy idea to life.

Some talented photographer friends of mine helped me sort through 4,000 images. Jon Duncan, Scott Hollingsworth and Jeff Danault put their own editing style on a few, and we ended up with seventeen framed 16 x 20's, 300 matted (sort of) 4 x 6's, and hundreds of images projected on the wall in a slide show.

The goal of the event was to raise $2,500 for Empty Bowls. In the end, we had nearly 140 people in attendance. The crowd was overflowing, out onto the sidewalk that cool rainy evening. We had Mayors and other elected officials, Judges, artists, friends and family. It was a wonderful night!

Our silent auction did very well, with contributions from Flip'n Axe, Good Barbers, and Island Fin Poke. David Smith and Donioan Earheart donated some of their fabulous images. Carla Lavergne of Clarksville Living Magazine contributed, as did many others.

Thanks to everyone's efforts, attendance and support, we were able to raise $4,301. I am blown away. Thank you Clarksville.

And for those who have asked, yes, we may have to do it again.

On a personal note: Our heartfelt condolences go out to Cliff Holt's family. Our dear friend and travel companion.

JODY'S NEXT JOURNEY

Journeys Eye Studio, a mid-century, modern, eclectic architectural home décor shop, was brought to Franklin Street by Jody Isaacs and Steve Tyrrell back in 2015. It quickly became a downtown anchor, a store that people were talking about.

Over the years, Jody and Steve have tweaked, upgraded and evolved their little business. Recently, some big changes went into effect, so we sat down with Isaacs to find out more.

“It was exciting at first, as all new things are,” Isaacs said. “But, I found that a lot of my audience was from outside Clarksville. I had clients from Texas, California, and the mid-west. We would travel all over the country to find these unique items that we offered, but I think our timing just wasn't quite right.”

Isaacs brought the store down from New England. She and Steve had operated it there for several years before they came to Clarksville. “After being here for a while we were looking around and trying to find new ideas,” Isaacs said. “We asked ourselves, what does Clarksville need? What can we do that would be a better fit for Clarksville? So, first of all, I started the welcome center, called Destination Clarksville. We've had that for a few years now, we offer brochures and information, but we're a hands-on welcome center. We've walked people down to the museum. I've given people rides back to the boat (The American Duchess), different things like that. So, we're almost like a concierge service.”

Isaacs has never forgotten the goals she and Steve set when they first came to Clarksville; foremost, to make a difference.

“I think the most important thing to remember is that we came here to contribute to this town,” Isaacs said. “We had music - Journey's Eye Live. Ours has always been an eclectic shop, with interesting things to look at, which hopefully brought more people downtown. We were always open seven days a week, except during Covid-19.”

“At some point we realized we were meeting so many people who were just passing through. Then, it hit me. We need to share information with these people. There were times when we got people, who were just passing through for an hour or two, to spend a couple of days here. That means more revenue and tax dollars for the town.”

That's when Isaacs' always curious/entrepreneurial mind came upon a genius idea.

“It occurred to me that in 100 years nobody has had a full-on souvenir shop for the boats and all the others who are passing through,” Isaacs said. “Between Fort Campbell, APSU, and curious people who are just passing through from Florida, Wisconsin, Chicago, etc, there are a lot of people traveling through our city.”

She went to the city and county mayors, and said, we need a hands on approach in welcoming people to Clarksville. Isaacs has a number of ideas, buildings and concepts she has considered, but earlier this year she decided to refocus a bit.

“Oh, I had a lot of ideas that I was trying to implement,” Isaacs said. “I decided to just hone in on what is actually needed. The visitor center and the souvenir shop seemed to be the most inquired about.”

The Clarksville Collection opened about two years ago, across the street from Journey's Eye Studio, inside the Franklin Arcade. She wanted it to be separate from the studio, so that it would be its own thing and have its own character.

“So, I saw what was really working best for us.” Isaacs said. “When Binks closed, I went to several of the local downtown retailers, to see if they wanted to take on some of his outdoor wear product lines. That was just such a good fit for downtown.

“Nobody seemed interested in taking it on, but I thought that would mix well with the Clarksville Collection. So I have added Mountain Khakis, and a couple of other great outdoor brands to our store. Now, we're focusing on that as well. So the welcome center, souvenir shop, and outdoor wear is where we have landed, and it's going very well.”

The store still has the same vibe as the original Journey's Eye Studio, with all kinds of interesting goodies, and the friendliest people in town.

“More than 80% of what we offer is designed by us, and locally manufactured,” Isaacs said. “If it's not a local product, then it's from companies that have a mission; planting trees, women's programs, that sort of thing. We don't buy things willy-nilly. We're very conscious of our choices. We want excellence. I think Clarksville is excellent.”

The store, in its new configuration, has been operating for about two years, three months now in the original Journey's Eye Studio location.

The owners' new mission has continually evolved and developed, but there is still a loyal fan-base for the quirky/classy, unique art and décor that the original studio is known for.

“To satisfy our lovely and loyal Journey's Eye customers, we are starting a new concept at our 720 River Street property.” Isaacs said. “That's where Steve's workshop is. He built high-end homes in the Boston area. He's a car guy, and can tinker on anything. He can build amazing things from just about anything.

“We used to take old airplanes and chop them up. He is so talented. Furniture, lighting, tables, wood and metal are his thing. What to call what he does is a good question. We used to call it industrial lighting and furniture.”

Tyrrell has done creative lighting and metal-work projects at The Mailroom and Strawberry Alley. He has also done things for The Blackhorse Pub & Brewery.

“We'll be able to showcase more of Steve's items there,” Isaacs said. “We're going to set it up with vignette's. The first weekend of every month we'll have hors-d'oeuvres, drinks and shopping from 4 -9 p.m. on Friday. Saturday's, we'll be open from 9 a.m. - 4 p.m. Items will change out every month. It will be an experience, like walking through a home or garden, or both, and it will be artfully done.”

Isaacs says, if you don't see what you want this month, it will always be changing, and once you get a feel for what they do, she knows people will come back again and again to see what new items are being offered.

“We’re looking at February or March, but I invite everyone to keep an eye on our Clarksville Collection social media @clarksvillecollection.com

“We moved here because we fell in love with the city,” Isaacs said. “We wanted a place that was up-and-coming, not already fully-established. We have remained purposeful in that. We’ve watched this community and its leadership change. Visit Clarksville and other organizations have also begun to focus more on downtown. I’m just going to continue to pour my loving energy into this downtown.”

She, once again, talked about other business ideas, additional locations, and a plethora of other projects. Isaacs has been involved in a number of groups that have focused on downtown, and shows no sign of slowing down.

“Ha, I’m not slowing down, and I’ll never stop being a part of this city’s growth.” 🦋

WHAT DO YOU WANT IN

By Stephani Cook

After bingeing You Tube travel channels during the 2020 Covid Quarantine, my husband and I purchased a fifth-wheel RV. Neither of us camped as children and we had absolutely no experience. We joked as we left the dealership with a new diesel truck and a 36-foot attached home that we remembered a very similar feeling when we left the hospital with our first born. Should they let this happen? Obviously, a human life is more precious than a camper, but both felt daunting, and both times we were clueless. There was nothing to do but learn as much as we could, as fast as we could, with the hopes we wouldn't screw up terribly.

We figured out quickly that the best way to learn about this entirely new lifestyle was to start small. And that's exactly what we did. Our first overnight excursion was very close to home. We stayed right here in Clarksville. Worst case scenario, anything we could possibly need was within twenty minutes of us...including our own beds. It went very well. As we grew more comfortable, our next trip was a little further, as was the next and the next.

Two years later, as we consider future camping destinations, it now seems realistic to plan a cross country trip that will cover more than 1500 miles. If we had driven our RV off the lot hoping immediately for a 1500-mile adventure without any experience, it is likely that we would have surmised that it was too difficult, and our camper would have been for sale within a few weeks. Or maybe even just parked somewhere with no intentions of using it again. We had to give ourselves the permission to be beginners and we had to act like beginners. We had to make some mistakes and adjustments to discover what works best for us. We even had to learn what we love about camping and what we couldn't care less about. By approaching it this way, we are still going strong and love it more each time we leave home.

Several years ago, I gave up making resolutions because I never seemed to persevere past the first few weeks or even days. As I've learned more about goal setting and goal keeping through my coaching training, I can now see the mistakes I was making and the reasons my resolutions never came to fruition. Rather than setting a series of small, achievable goals, my pursuits were more like attempting to make the 1500-mile trip on day one. I wanted to be an expert with no practice. I wanted big results quickly. I wanted to avoid the slow and steady stuff.

If you can relate to the disappointment of unfulfilled resolutions year after year, I would like to invite you to consider these questions in hopes that 2023 might be the year you accomplish those elusive goals and dreams.

QUESTION # 1: WHAT DO YOU WANT?

This may seem obvious, but if you don't define what it is that you really want, you are almost guaranteed to fall short. As an example, common responses this time of year might include, "I want to lose weight" or "I want to get healthier".

If you were to share those things with me in a coaching session, I would encourage you to take those ideas and then be more specific. Goal setting can start with a broad, vague concept, but to really make things happen, it requires being far more specific. For example, rather than "I want to lose weight" you might consider "I want to lose ___ pounds" or "I want to go down one size in clothing."

Maybe your goals are related to daily habits or relationships. You may want to choose something such as "I'll spend less than 30 minutes on social media each day" or "I'll call my parents at least once a week".

Whatever it is that you want, be specific.

QUESTION #2 WHY DO YOU WANT IT?

One of the quickest ways to burnout or to quit when pursuing a goal is to have no why behind it. Answering this question requires introspection and honesty. Without a solid why to keep you going when it gets hard (and it WILL get hard) you are unlikely to get there. Once again, the more specific you can be with your why, the more likely it is to stick.

Using our weight loss example, a why might be "because I want to be able to play with my kids while they are young" or "because heart disease runs in my family, and I want to live longer". This step may be the most important of all, so spend time with it to be sure your why is worth it. Sometimes when defining your why, you may realize you don't even want what you thought you did. If this happens, jump back to question #1 and try again.

QUESTION #3 HOW WILL YOU KNOW YOU'RE GETTING THERE?

In the coaching world we call this "being measurable". Being able to measure a goal begins with where we started in question 1. When you are specific with what you want, chances are your goals will be easily measured. If your goal is "I want to lose 10 pounds" then you will know each week if you are moving towards meeting your goal by stepping on a scale. If your goal is "I want to work out 3 days a week" then you would know at the end of each week if you met, fell short or exceeded your goal. Be sure whatever you are working towards can be easily measured and keep track of your progress.

QUESTION #4 IS THIS REASONABLE OR REALISTIC?

This is where I think many of our resolutions lose their power. Far too often, as in my example of our RV experiences, we set goals that are far too lofty or completely unreasonable only to scratch our heads as to why we don't meet them. We pick goals because of what everyone else is doing without even considering our own personalities or circumstances.

For years, I put "I want to run a marathon" on my New Year's list. But I don't run. I've never been a runner. In fact, I hate to run. Running 26.2 miles was completely unreasonable when I had no desire to run even one.

When I did the "why" test on my goal of running, what I discovered is that it's not really the finishing of a marathon that appeals to me. It is the feeling of knowing I accomplished something incredibly difficult. Something that takes great effort. Something that not everyone can do. When I considered the goal from that perspective, I changed my marathon goal to "I want to publish a book". And I'm happy to report that I accomplished my goal in 2022. Twice.

Reasonable doesn't have to mean easy. It doesn't mean you lower your standards or even give up on dreams. But it does mean you consider where you are, where you are trying to go, and how you are going to get there. It means you take enormous goals and break them into manageable pieces. You start small and measure your progress regularly. When you begin to meet goals regularly, you will find you have momentum to set more goals. Bigger goals. And before you know it, what seems reasonable and realistic will be the big things that once seemed out of reach.

QUESTION #5 WHO WILL HOLD YOU ACCOUNTABLE?

Telling someone else what you are doing is one of the best ways to keep you consistent. Especially if you give that person permission to push you a little along the way. Set up a consistent time to review your progress with them or to check in. Accountability is incredibly important and the reason why we do better when we do things in community.

Maybe you want to hire a coach to help you meet your goals this year. I am happy to help you. The first session is always free so there is no risk and no obligation. Reach out and let's talk about if coaching is right for you. If nothing else, I would love the opportunity to encourage you and hear about your goals.

I hope these tips lead you to accomplish that thing that has seemed to elude you before now. Remember, every expert starts as a beginner. Dream big, but don't be afraid to start small. Happy New Year 2023!! 🦋

Three Daughters Boutique in Sango is growing in many ways. This local business is expanding their offerings as well as their footprint in the community. Aside from that, the owners are expanding their family as they grow their business!

James and Jackie Lawrence held the grand opening event for their retail store in May 2022. Three Daughters Boutique quickly became a local favorite featuring on trend yet high quality, affordable items. Showcasing adorable clothing and accessories, the store frequently offers items sourced from local vendors. They offer unique pieces, so the most fashionable customer finds something alongside the traditionalist. A wide array of sizes are offered, from XS- 3X, as well as an entire wall of denim in sizes 0-22 (including maternity)!

The store began in an 800 sq ft space and in just a few months began an extensive renovation to move into a new space with over 2400 sq ft on the opposite end of their retail building. The couple moved into the new space in October and fans of the store followed! They continue to grow, recently adding children's clothing and lingerie to the collection. The beautiful store features many "insta-worthy" photo spots and offers a luxurious six fitting rooms.

The Lawrence family are like many Clarksville families. James is active duty military, and Jackie is a stay at home mom to their four (soon to be five) children. They have poured themselves into their business, managing their renovations and expansions and solely running the business on their own. Anytime you visit the boutique or interact with their website or social media, it is James and Jackie (along with their children) that you are dealing with. They have dedicated themselves to creating a store that is a part of the community and continue to commit their time and energy into making Three Daughters Boutique something special!

Everyone is aware that small businesses need our patronage, especially now. The family continually works to serve their customers, and this business is a part of their growing family.

Part of their commitment is another expansion, coming in early 2023. Construction recently began on the new Three Daughters Cafe! As their social media states, this was originally planned to be a separate brick and mortar location, but with completed renovations of the new larger space the growth in the current location will be a wonderful addition! Prepare to enjoy yummy baked goods, iced coffee and more. Sip, snack and shop all in the beautiful environment created by the Lawrences. Additionally, the ThreeDaughtersBoutiqueTN.com website is expanding. Local pick up will no longer be offered, as the offerings on the site are changing. Store inventory will now be available in-store only, but the website will now house expanded inventory from the warehouse with shipping only offered. This allows for more year round options and new items added to the site monthly!

Visit Three Daughters Boutique and get to know the Lawrence family. They are growing their business as they grow their family, and the community is benefiting from their efforts! Visit in-store or online now to find the perfect accessory, or special outfit that is as unique as you are. Make plans to visit again later in the winter to enjoy the under construction cafe. Plan to grab your iced coffee and pose against one of the lovely floral walls for a quick photo with friends. Support local small businesses, support a local military family as they grow! 🦋

Grab the crackers, toasted bread, and ready your spoon. When you crave comfort and convenience, look no further than soup

you can make in your trusty slow cooker. While we love soup, we can do without the hassle and time it takes to prepare a homemade pot. And let's be honest, the canned, sodium-filled stuff simply won't do on some nights. That's why we're breaking out the slow cooker for a hands-free approach to a complete dinner made from scratch.

It doesn't get any easier—or any more delicious—than throwing a few fresh ingredients in the slow cooker and letting it do all the work while you enjoy your day. All you have to do is set it and forget it in the morning and come home (with an empty stomach) to these warm and satisfying stews and soups that are just waiting to be devoured by your family.

SLOW-COOKER FRENCH ONION SOUP

Ingredients:

- 2 pounds Vidalia onions, thinly sliced (about 8 cups sliced)
- ¼ cup unsalted butter, melted
- 1 ½ teaspoons granulated sugar
- 1 ½ teaspoons kosher salt
- ½ teaspoon black pepper, plus more for garnish
- 6 thyme sprigs, tied with kitchen twine
- 1 dried bay leaf
- 5 cups lower-sodium beef broth

- 1 tablespoon sherry vinegar
- 12 (½-inch-thick) baguette slices
- 6 ounces Gruyère cheese, shredded (about 1 ½ cups)
- Fresh thyme leaves

Directions:

Stir together onions, melted butter, sugar, salt, and pepper in a 6-quart slow cooker until onions are fully coated. Place thyme and bay leaf on onion mixture. Cover and cook on HIGH, stirring once halfway through, until onions are deep golden brown and caramelized, 6 to 7 hours.

Remove and discard thyme and bay leaf. Stir in broth and vinegar. Cover and cook on HIGH until thoroughly heated, about 30 minutes.

Preheat oven to broil, with oven rack about 6 inches from heat. Spoon soup into 6 ovenproof ramekins; place on a large rimmed baking sheet. Top each ramekin with 2 baguette slices; divide cheese evenly among ramekins (about ¼ cup each). Broil until cheese is melted and golden brown, about 3 minutes. Sprinkle with fresh thyme leaves and black pepper. Serve immediately.

WHITE CHICKEN CHILI

Ingredients:

- 1 ¾ pounds skinless chicken thighs, trimmed and cut into 1 ½-inch pieces
- 1 (16-oz.) package dried navy beans, soaked overnight according to package directions, drained, and rinsed
- 5 cups chicken broth
- 1 large sweet onion, chopped (about 2 cups)
- 2 (4 oz.) cans diced spicy green chiles
- 1 (1.25 oz.) envelope white chicken chili seasoning mix
- 2 teaspoons ground cumin
- 2 teaspoons minced garlic
- 1 teaspoon kosher salt

Toppings: sour cream, pre-shredded 4-cheese Mexican blend, chopped fresh cilantro, chopped fresh avocado

Directions:

Stir together chicken, beans, broth, onion, green chiles, chili seasoning mix, cumin, garlic, and salt in a 5- to 6-quart slow cooker. Cover and cook on HIGH 5 to 6 hours or LOW 8 to 10 hours until beans are tender. Serve with toppings.

CHICKEN-AND-RICE SOUP WITH MUSHROOMS

Ingredients:

- 1 tablespoon olive oil
- 1 cup refrigerated prechopped onion
- 1/2 cup refrigerated prechopped celery
- 1 (8-oz.) package sliced fresh mushrooms
- 2 garlic cloves, minced
- 5 cups chicken broth
- 3 cups chopped cooked chicken
- 2 tablespoons chopped fresh parsley
- 1 teaspoon chicken bouillon granules
- 1 (6-oz.) package long-grain and wild rice mix

Directions:

Heat a large skillet over medium-high; add oil. Add onion and next 3 ingredients. Sauté 4 minutes or until vegetables are tender; add 2 cups water, stirring to loosen particles from bottom of skillet. Combine vegetable mixture, broth, and remaining ingredients (including seasoning packet from rice mix) in a 4- to 5-quart slow cooker. Cover and cook on LOW 4 to 4 1/2 hours or until rice is tender.

CHICKEN AND CORNBREAD DUMPLINGS

Ingredients:

CHICKEN

- 3 skinned, bone-in chicken breasts (about 1 1/2 lb.)
- 6 skinned and boned chicken thighs (about 1 lb.)
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon freshly ground pepper
- 1/2 teaspoon poultry seasoning
- 1/2 pound carrots, sliced
- 1/2 pound parsnips, sliced
- 4 celery ribs, sliced
- 1 sweet onion, chopped
- 2 (10 3/4-oz.) cans cream of chicken soup
- 1 (32-oz.) container chicken broth

CORNBREAD DUMPLINGS

- 1 1/2 cups all-purpose flour
- 1/2 cup self-rising yellow cornmeal
- 2 teaspoons baking powder
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1 cup milk
- 3 tablespoons butter, melted
- 1/4 teaspoon dried thyme
- 2 teaspoons chopped fresh flat-leaf parsley

Directions:

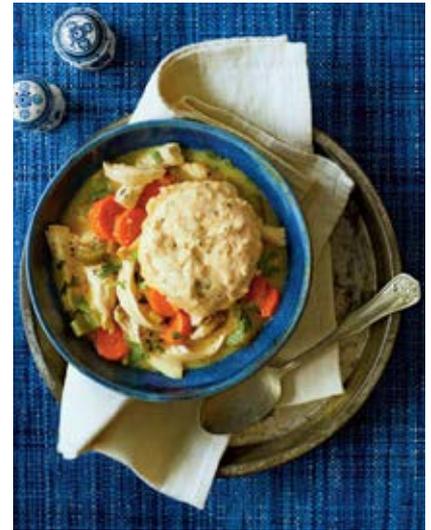

Prepare Chicken:

Rub chicken pieces with salt, pepper, and poultry seasoning. Place breasts in a 6-qt. slow cooker; top with thighs. Add carrots and next 3 ingredients. Whisk together soup and broth until smooth. Pour soup mixture over vegetables. Cover and cook on HIGH 3 1/2 hours or until chicken shreds easily with a fork. Remove chicken; cool 10 minutes. Bone and shred chicken. Stir chicken into soup-and-vegetable mixture. Cover and cook on HIGH 1 hour or until boiling.

Prepare Dumplings:

Whisk together flour and next 3 ingredients. Make a well in center of mixture. Add milk, butter, thyme, and parsley to dry ingredients, gently stirring just until moistened.

Drop dough by 1/4 cupfuls into simmering chicken mixture, leaving about 1/4-inch space between dumplings. Cover and cook on HIGH 30 to 35 minutes or until dumplings have doubled in size.

SLOW-COOKER CORN CHOWDER

Ingredients:

- 14 ears fresh yellow corn (about 3 lb.), divided
- 2 ½ cups chicken stock
- 2 medium-size russet potatoes (about 1 ½ lb.), peeled and chopped
- 1 small yellow onion (about 5 oz.), chopped
- 4 thyme sprigs
- 3 garlic cloves, smashed
- 2 teaspoons kosher salt
- 1 teaspoon black pepper
- 4 thick-cut bacon slices, cooked and crumbled
- ½ cup finely chopped red onion (from 1 small onion)
- 2 tablespoons chopped fresh chives
- 2 tablespoons fresh lime juice (from 1 large lime)
- 1 cup heavy cream

Directions

Cut corn kernels from cobs using a sharp knife. Reserve 1 cup corn kernels. Place remaining corn kernels in a 5- to 6-quart slow cooker. Working over a rimmed pan, use the back of the knife to scrape cobs to release all juices from cobs. Add corn milk, stock, potatoes, yellow onion, thyme sprigs, garlic, salt, and pepper to slow cooker.

Cover and cook on LOW until potatoes are very tender and chowder has thickened slightly, about 6 hours.

Meanwhile, stir together reserved 1 cup corn kernels, bacon, red onion, chives, and lime juice in a small bowl. Chill until ready to serve, up to 6 hours ahead.

Remove half of chowder, and set aside. Process remaining chowder in slow cooker using an immersion blender until smooth. (Or transfer half of chowder to a blender, and remove center piece of blender lid to allow steam to escape. Secure lid; place a clean towel over opening in lid, and process until smooth.) Stir together reserved and pureed chowder in slow cooker. Stir in heavy cream. Divide evenly among 6 bowls; top evenly with fresh corn topping.

Tips

To make this dish vegetarian, simply replace chicken stock with vegetable stock, and skip the bacon.

CREAMY POTATO-AND-HAM HOCK SOUP

Ingredients:

- 4 ½ pounds russet potatoes, chopped (about 10 cups)
- 2 pounds smoked ham hocks (about 3 ham hocks)
- 2 cups chopped yellow onion (from 1 medium onion)
- 1 cup chopped celery (from 3 stalks)
- 2 tablespoons minced garlic cloves (about 4 garlic cloves)
- 2 tablespoons chopped fresh thyme
- 2 ½ teaspoons kosher salt
- 1 teaspoon black pepper
- 5 cups chicken broth
- 1 cup heavy cream
- Chopped fresh chives
- Hot sauce

Directions

Place potatoes, ham hocks, onion, celery, garlic, thyme, salt, and pepper in a 7-quart slow cooker; add broth, and stir to combine. Cover and cook on HIGH until potatoes are tender, 4 hours. Remove ham hocks, and place on a plate to cool 15 minutes.

Puree soup in slow cooker with an immersion blender until it's creamy but whole pieces of potato are still visible. Add cream, and stir. Once ham hocks are cool enough to handle, remove all meat and chop; discard fat and bone. Add meat to soup, and stir to combine.

Ladle soup in bowls; top with chopped chives and a dash of hot sauce.

Tips

If you don't own an immersion blender, transfer half of the hot soup to a regular blender. Remove the center piece on the blender's lid to allow steam to escape. Secure lid on the blender, and cover opening with a towel; process until smooth. Return pureed potato soup to the slow cooker.

LOADED POTATO SOUP

Ingredients:

- 4 pounds new potatoes, peeled and cut into 1/4-inch-thick slices
- 1 small onion, chopped
- 2 (14-oz.) cans chicken broth
- 2 teaspoons salt
- 1/2 teaspoon pepper
- 1 pint half-and-half
- Shredded Cheddar cheese
- Crumbled cooked bacon
- Sliced green onion

Directions

Layer sliced potatoes in a lightly greased 6-quart slow cooker; top with chopped onion.

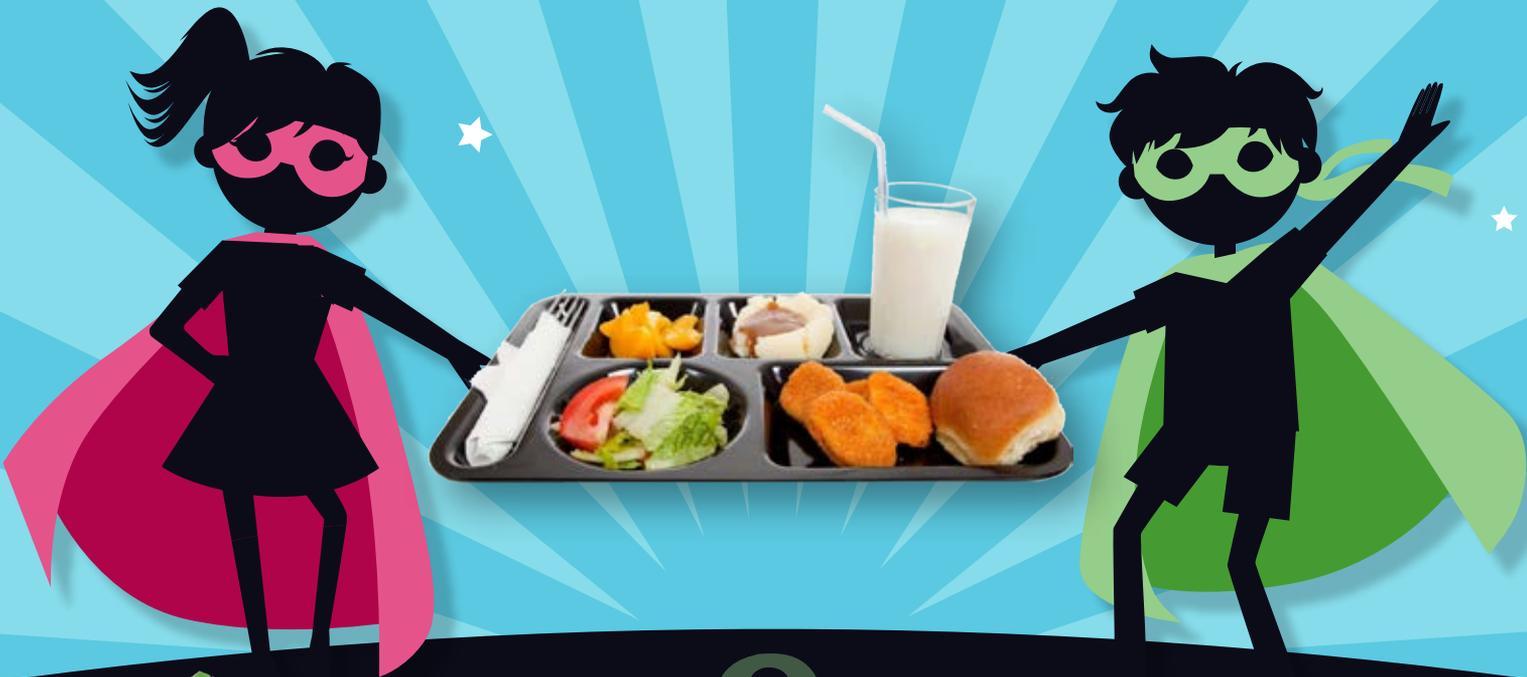

Stir together chicken broth, salt, and pepper; pour over potatoes and onion. (Broth will not completely cover potatoes and onion.) Cover and cook on HIGH 3 to 5 hours or until potatoes are tender. Mash mixture with a potato masher; stir in half-and-half.

Cover and cook on HIGH 20 more minutes or until mixture is thoroughly heated. If desired, use an immersion blender to smooth out lumps.

Ladle into bowls, and serve with desired toppings. 🦋

IT'S A SCAVENGER
HUNT! CLARKSVILLE
JANUARY 1-31
10AM-8PM

It's a Scavenger Hunt!™ is a traditional scavenger hunt with a modern twist! Buy tickets online at: allevents.in/clarksville/its-a-savenger-hunt-clarksville/10000358029464767
About this Event:

All you need is your own mobile device and a data connection. Young and old, individuals, families or friends can all participate in a group, as a couple, or individually. Create multiple teams and compete against each other to be the highest ranked in our Hall of Fame.

What is ""It's a Scavenger Hunt!?" This all age activity is a smartphone-guided event where you play alone with your group in your own neighborhood on your own schedule by following instructions provided by the in-game host.

Fill your virtual scavenger sack with the items you help choose through riddle-like clues! Explore your surroundings, attempting to quickly locate a variety of items as they are revealed one at a time by your game master.

Get outdoors, get creative and try to get a top spot in the It's a Scavenger Hunt!™ Hall of Fame. Teams are timed and each item found will be appraised and a combination of these two factors will be used to rank you against other teams.

How many people can play? Price is per team, not per person. Groups can be any size, but teams of two, three or four work best as your group will need to follow along on a single mobile device.

What time does this start? Because this game is self-guided by the in-app game master, you can play It's a Scavenger Hunt!™ in any city anywhere in the world and at any time on any day - no reservations required!

We recommend playing during business hours as it will make it easier to locate many of the items you must find.

Most groups complete the scavenger hunt in around 90 minutes.

Some places that we advertise with require us to provide a specific location plus an event date and a start and end time.

However, there are no restrictions on these tickets so you can still play at any time on any day, in any location.

Where do we play?

It's a Scavenger Hunt! is designed to be played in a busy populated area, such as a shopping mall or downtown shopping district.

However, anywhere with a variety of publicly accessible businesses and outdoor spaces is a potential location to play.

If the weather is inclement, an indoor shopping mall is the ideal rainy day location to play.

What's the refund policy? All sales are final. Tickets are good for one year from date of purchase.

What do I do with my ticket? Your ticket number should be entered when you register on our web site www.itsascavengerhunt.com.

All registration is done online and you will not have to check in with anyone before you start as the game is self-guided.

You do not need a physical ticket, only a modern mobile device with a data connection.

For Android devices we recommend using the Chrome web browser and for Apple devices you must use the Safari web browser.

If you have any questions please visit the Help page on our web site www.itsascavengerhunt.com/faq.php

TOMÁS AND THE LIBRARY LADY JANUARY 21 & 28 @ 2PM

Tomás, the son of migrant farm workers, meets a librarian who introduces him to the wonderful world of books. The stories enrich the lives of Tomás' family and instill a love of reading. TOMÁS AND THE LIBRARY LADY is the inspiring true story of Tomás Rivera, who grew up in a migrant worker family, befriended a librarian in Iowa, and learned to love books and the places they took him. Tomás went on to a successful career in academia and became the chancellor of the University of California, Riverside. Adapted from the beloved children's book, this play can be readily understood by both English and Spanish speakers.

MONTGOMERY COUNTY GYMBOREE OPEN GYM. 9AM

Where they are: We welcome all children, at all levels of development! Come explore our playscapes, for some unguided play time.

What to expect in class: Children are given free range to explore the set-ups, with their adults within a hug's reach. Let your child take the lead and run out some wiggles! Special Open Gym times will sometimes have extra activities like a no-mess art activity, a story-time or a surprise visit from Gymbol! Benefits:

Physical: Allowing children to lead their own play offers time for them to try things repeatedly without worrying about the structure of a class, or trying something again they did in class earlier!

Cognitive: Unguided play supports early brain development.

Social: Sharing a space with mixed ages allows for children to learn and practice more sophisticated social skills and learn from their peers.

Adults: Let your little one guide their own play, which has countless benefits. Spend quality time with them doing what they love to do, and mostly run out some energy!

THE VAGINA MONOLOGUES JANUARY 13,14,19,20,21 @7PM

Spread the word! Funny, outrageous, emotionally affecting and occasionally angry ... Eve Ensler's series of monologues about women and performed by women is back for the 20th year! This Obie Award-winning whirlwind tour of a forbidden zone introduces a wildly divergent gathering of female voices, including a six-year-old girl, a septuagenarian New Yorker, a vagina workshop participant, a woman who witnesses the birth of her granddaughter, a Bosnian survivor of rape, and a feminist happy to have found a man who "liked to look at it."

This production is being presented in theotherspace, our 50-seat black box theatre located upstairs at the Roxy.

UFO CLUB.

Shoot down your UFOs. For the quilters or sewers who have Unfinished Fabric Objects lying around. A great way to make new friends and be inspired to conquer some of your UFOs. Join us on the first Sat. of each month at 9:00AM in the classroom at Quilt and Sew. Call the Mother Ship (Quilt Shop) for further details or directions. Free and fun.

What is a UFO? An Un-Finished Object!

A UFO is anything you have started or stashed! You may have bought the kit or a pattern and fabric and just never got started on it. Or you may have started, ran out of time or encountered a problem, and put it down! As with many of our projects, it's just hard to find the time (or enthusiasm) to get back to them. So any project you've put in a drawer, the top of the closet, under the bed or on a shelf could qualify as a Un-Finished Object for this Challenge!

Just follow the directions below and come see us at the shop.

SLOSHED-SPEARE: THE TAMING OF THE SHREW - 7PM

The Roxy Regional Theatre is looking to spread the word of the Bard in a fun, engaging and entertaining way. SLOSHED-SPEARE incorporates an abridged Shakespeare play with some adult beverages thrown in. With every donation of $5 or more from you, our audience, our players can receive life-saving sustenance in the form of liquid libation. Thus, they become inebriated throughout the performance, not only for your entertainment but, more importantly, for your education. Join us while we entertain and educate audiences with a fresh and modern-ish take on the works of the literary lush himself, William Shakespeare.

A brief summary of THE TAMING OF THE SHREW:

Lucentio loves Bianca but cannot court her until her shrewish older sister Katherina marries. The eccentric Petruccio marries the reluctant Katherina and uses a number of tactics to render her an obedient wife. Lucentio marries Bianca and, in a contest at the end, Katherina proves to be the most obedient wife.

While SLOSHED-SPEARE incorporates the consumption of alcoholic beverages, we advocate and encourage the need for responsible drinking and designated drivers. Furthermore, we require all players to have a designated driver for every performance. If you or someone you know is struggling with addiction, please call the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration's National Helpline at 1-800-662-4357.

PAINTING IN THE DARK 12PM-2PM

Creating a new light in the dark.

Get ready to create in a new way. Sometimes we have to close our eyes to truly see.

For this workshop you will learn how to paint without sight. Tracy is an amazing artist with a unique ability to create in the dark herself and will show you how she does it while you can create a one of a kind piece yourself.

Tracy Bettencourt is a mother of two, fitness competitor, artist, and Teacher, she began to lose her sight in her early 30s from a degenerative eye disease known as Retinitis Pigmentosa. Although the disease has left her blind, the hardships she experienced have not prevented her from being an advocate for those with disabilities, motivational speaker, and artist. Through her artwork she conveys her perception of the world around her while bringing new insight to her work

This is an all ages class.

p.s. Don't wear your fave threads this one might get messy; but don't worry we have all the aprons juts in case.

join us at the art studio. $38 Tickets
